

Hi-Hope Service Center & the Disability Studies Initiative at Emory University

Presents

Advocacy & Access Reception

An opportunity to promote your organization, mission and work to attendees of the Sprout Atlanta Film Festival and the public-at-large.

Saturday, September 10 @ Dobbs University Center,
Emory University
2:00 P.M. – 6:30 P.M.

Hopefully at this point you are aware of Sprout Film Festival Atlanta. If not, you can learn more by going to www.sproutfestatl.eventbrite.com or by contacting Nick Reynolds (see below). To enhance the advocacy component of the film festival, we have reserved space in Dobbs University Center for select organizations to set up information tables. Here are the details:

Set up is strictly from 2pm to 2:15pm. Parking is free on campus, but the closest location is a 5 minute walk away. You are welcome to leave materials with a volunteer in front of the building on Asbury Circle while you park, but this option will not be available after the event. During the first screening and second screening, we will have volunteers keeping an eye on the tables to you can watch the films, but neither Hi-Hope nor Emory are responsible for lost or stolen items - do not leave valuables unattended. Your organization will be given a standard 72in x 30in table. The space is open to the public so please feel free to display your information and handouts from 2pm to 6:30pm. The official reception will take place between the two screenings from 3:30pm to 4:30pm (have staff present). Organization representatives are encouraged to attend one or both screenings (each set features different films) and to extend an invitation to their larger networks. Admission is free, but we ask that you RSVP at the aforementioned website.

Questions?

Please Call Nick Reynolds: 770.963.8693 ex. 116