Budget Information:

The 2013 Session tackles the 2013 supplemental budget, referred to here as FY 2013A, (ending June 30, 2013) and the FY 2014 budget (beginning July 1, 2013). This week's issue reports on budget numbers included in the final FY 2014 budget, that passed on Sine Die and is on its way to the governor's office for his signature.

Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities; FY 2014

To see details on how the budget breaks down for each program in DBHDD, please see the full budget documents available at <http://opb.georgia.gov> and <http://www.house.ga.gov/budget>. This year, DBHDD took a 3 percent cut with all other state agencies.

The FY 2014 budget adds $250,000 in state funds for the Marcus Autism Center, with total funds added of $500,000. The House and Senate also agreed to add language to the budget requiring DBHDD to provide a report by January 2014 with a plan to equalize grant-in-aid funding for core behavioral health services across the state.

Department budget summary

Final Fiscal Year 2014 Appropriation

TOTAL FUNDS: $1,160,609,191

DOJ Settlement-Related Spending ó FY14

The final budget did not make any changes to the items related to DD services under the DOJ settlement. DBHDD is in the third year of the Settlement Agreement with the Department of Justice. The agreement lays out five years of deliverables to better serve people with mental illness and developmental disabilities currently living in state institutions or at risk of institutionalization.

Final Fiscal Year 2014 Appropriation

Family Supports: $6,520,400

. $1,872,000 recommended increase over FY 2013, to serve 500 more families

NOW/COMP Waivers: $31,812,512

. $11,966,160 recommended increase over FY 2013 for 250 new waivers

Crisis Respite Homes (12) & Mobile Crisis Teams (6): $11,917,681

Education of Judges and Law Enforcement: $250,000

Waiver Audits: $200,000

DD Total spending: $50,700,593

. $13,838,160 recommended increase over FY 2013

Department of Community Health; FY 2014

The Conference Committee struck a compromise between the House and Senate appropriations for new Independent Care Waiver Program slots (their budgets called for 28 and 14 new slots, respectively), adding 20 new ICWP slots to the final budget. The Governor, House, and Senate Appropriations all had different takes on the proposed provider rate cut, and ultimately, the final budget maintained the FY 2013 rate.

The final budget maintained decisions by the House and Senate to keep the Aged, Blind and Disabled Medicaid program separate from the Low-Income Medicaid Program, and to increase the budgetary flexibility allowed between the two programs, from 2% to 10%. The final budget also kept language regarding consumer choice in the elderly and disabled waiver; eligible beneficiaries can choose from SOURCE care management companies and the Community Care Services Program available in each county.

The final budget also maintained a proposal agreed upon by the Governor and both chambers to save $7.2 million in state general funds by better enforcing analyses of the level of care required to qualify for long-term care and home and community-based services. Finally, the FY 2014 budget included generally agreed-upon language authorizing DCH to submit a federal application for an 1115 Medicaid waiver; this waiver will be used to create the new managed care system for children in foster care.

Department of Human Services; FY 2014

There are two particular items of interest in the DHS budget regarding services for seniors: the Governor proposed eliminating 17 adult protective service worker positions, a savings of $528,871. The House eliminated this cut, proposing to keep all 17 positions, but the final budget adopted the Senate proposal to cut half that many positions, for a reduction of $264,463.

Both the House and Senate, however, rejected a proposal by the Governor to reduce contract respite services by $484,559. The final budget maintains that decision, holding FY 2014 expenditures for contract respite services at FY 2013 levels.

Department of Education; FY 2014

The final budget incorporated a proposal by the Governor to transfer $6.3 million from the Georgia Learning Resource Center into federal programs.

The governor had proposed to end the $2.6 million Sparsity Grant program; the final budget retained funding for the program but directed the Department of Education to study and evaluate the need for it.

The final budget kept $291,361 added by the House for special education funding for students served in Residential Treatment Facilities.

Other items of note:

Increase funds based on enrollment growth & training

Final: $146,583,599

Increase funds for Special Needs Scholarships to meet projected need

Final: $52,247

Adjust funds for the Georgia Preschool Handicapped program based on increased enrollment

Final: $763,969

Reduce funds for Georgia Network for Educational and Therapeutic Support (GNETS) due to declining enrollment

Final: ($2,009,258)

SINE DIE! The 2013 General Assembly finished the session on March 28th as the clock ticked down to midnight. One of the many bills that passed on Sine Die was the FY 2014 budget.

Budget highlights: 20 Independent Care Waiver Program slots were added. The proposed 0.74% provider cut was eliminated.

$100,000 was added for inclusive post-secondary education. The Department of Justice-related spending for DD services is supported in full. Unfortunately, the funding for housing subsidies for individuals with DD that was included in the Senate budget did not make the final FY 2014 budget.

Other end-of-session news: House Bill 78, which deals with protections for adults with disabilities and seniors, passed both chambers and awaits the governorís signature. Two bills that create committees to examine Medicaid and possible reform, House Resolution 107 and Senate Bill 62, passed. And the much-talked about ethics bill, House Bill 142, was one of the final pieces of legislation to pass both chambers.

Remember: bills that did not pass will be alive next year. Much was accomplished this session, but there is a great deal for advocates left to do! Be sure you are signed up for GCDD's email lists to STAY CONNECTED throughout the year!
